Dear Mr. Snake,

I truthfully appreciate your attempt to challenge me; it is much obliged. Notwithstanding, I must be compelled to point out that the mistake in your accompanying structure is quite amusing—situating the quoted composition before your statement makes it grammatically awkward. Howbeit, that is an incontestable certitude. Subsequently, ensure that your clarity is utterly accurate preparatory to having an endeavor to affray an individual.

Due to this anticlimax, I am compelled to report you to ACT Student Services to decrease your composition score in writing. Veraciously, I would be immersed to observe one impeded to a subordinate class with all respects. Please acknowledge that I will not speak to any further inquiries or commentary on the subject matter.

With the utmost respect and contemplation,
